CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.
- 2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.
- 3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.

- 5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

¹ Includes price quotations, advertised competitive bids, limited bids and proposals.

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

 - 1.2. The Task Team has received inputs from various parties including the International Labour Organisation, the National Planning Commission, academics and government.
 - 1.3. The recommendations of the discussion paper recognise that comprehensive social security requires a cohesive set of policy measures and institutional reforms that are progressively implemented within an affordable and sustainable fiscal framework as per the Constitutional obligations to afford access to social security for all in South Africa.
 - 1.4. Various proposals of the discussion paper received by the Task Team require further research and analysis. The Task Team has therefore, agreed to procure research on specified topics.
 - 1.5. This Terms of Reference pertains to assessing the feasibility of for providing income support (either universal or means tested) to those between the ages of 18 to 59 in south Africa
 - 1.6. The nature of the income support (universal or means tested, conditional or unconditional)
 - 1.7. The value of the support (nutritional needs, reduce poverty, provide a decent standard of living?)
 - 1.7.1. Variable amount or flat rate
 - 1.7.2. If universal – taxed or tax exempt
 - 1.8. Links to the labour market
 - 1.9. The macroeconomic impact as well as the socio-economic impact needs to be considered.
 - 1.10. The delivery mechanism (tax credits, grants, wage subsidies, etc)

2. Context

- 2.1. The basic income grant concept is the idea that the social protection system should ensure that no-one lives below a to-be-determined minimum living level or social protection floor. In the 2002 Report of the Committee of Inquiry into a Comprehensive System of Social Security for South Africa, consideration was given to the phased implementation of a universal basic income grant – a monthly grant for all South Africans, progressively realised through the expansion of the social assistance system. The National Development Plan argues, similarly, for progressive assurance of a social floor, but realised through “multiple avenues” including measures to close the social security gap and include low-income and informal sector workers in contributory schemes, extended public employment programmes and expanded social welfare services. The underlying intent is that all qualifying individuals should be assured of access to a minimum living standard and meaningful participation in the economy.
- 2.2. In order to examine these reform options in more detail, the Nedlac Task Team seeks analysis and advice on the possible design, cost and implementation of an BIG to meet the immediate basic needs of an estimated 14 million people, between the ages of 18 or child grant age limit, whichever is higher and 59 years, who are living below the poverty line in South Africa.

3. Research objective

- 3.1. The objective of this research is to enable the Nedlac Task Team to assess the costs, macro-economic and as well as the distributional impact and fiscal feasibility of a basic income grant within South Africa. The analysis should include a universal subsidy design, and options for targeted or progressive steps towards universal implementation., as well as progressive increases to the values of the benefit as set out below. The primary research output is a dynamic model that will allow various design parameters and implementation assumptions to be tested. The output should include an option including current social assistance benefits at their current value, and one that withdraws the Child Support Grant but retains the State Old Age Pension which would be deemed to be a justified top-up of the universal basic income base.

4. Research considerations

- 4.0 The demographic projections associated with this will be provided to the successful consultant.
- 4.1. A literature review of the theories and categorisations of universal basic income or basic income grants is required as well as of analyses of applied pilot schemes globally where such evaluations have been completed.
- 4.2. The analysis should allow for alternative economic and income growth and employment projections to be tested through parameter adjustments. This should include the impact of the distributional effects on the grant on growth and employment. Funding requirements and implications for the tax system should be indicated transparently, with particular reference to redistributive aspects as well as claw back' options to off-set ballooning of initial costings. Detailed analysis of alternative tax instruments and their economic effects is required. Dynamic model parameters and outputs should enable the tax burden and grant benefit impact on households and individual taxpayers to be assessed for various calibrations of benefits and subsidy design.
- 4.3. The analysis should enable the overall impact on household income distribution to be assessed.
- 4.4. In quantifying alternative benefit levels, reference to an appropriate cost-of-living formulation as justified to the Research Reference Team should be provided.
- 4.5. When specified as an income subsidy, no conditional or contributory requirements for eligibility should be

	assumed. A benefit is payable to qualifying citizens. 4.6. Benefits are paid monthly in cash to individuals directly or through caregivers where appropriate. 5. Consultations during Research The researchers shall conduct in depth interviews with experts and/or persons proposed by each of the Social Partners, to enable the perspectives of the Social Partners to form part of the research project and its findings. 6. Selection Criteria for Researchers Researchers should have relevant and proven research experience which includes the construction and use of dynamic equilibrium models. The researchers should be acceptable to the Nedlac constituents. Diversity will be taken into account and favourable consideration will be given to research teams that include black African women.
